

Oral aversion : a clinical case

Nine years old child.

Few solid foods, mostly eat yogurt.

Gag reflex when inserting dental instruments or toothbrush into the mouth. Poor oral hygiene.

History of untreated dental trauma.

Failure of treatment with oxygen/nitrous oxide mixture.

Oral care under general anesthesia and desensitization treatment by the speech therapist